In that case, we do not have to wait as long as we are confident and generally agree with the response, we can send.

Thanks,

Lily

I don't know if reading the report will help very much a team that didn't make it. I'm fine to wait if that's what we want to do. Sara is rushing the WERB through, so it won't be very long til it's done. So far Jintai is the only person asking.

Subject: About replying to the inquiries

Hi, Dustin,

I do not know if we discussed it before. Shall we wait to reply the inquiries for not being selected until we release the report.

We can provide a general reply and say we will reply them after we release the report. I think the report will provide a large picture on general selection approach. Or maybe the report does not seem help each individual team.
